

COURSES OFFERED AT THE OREGON EXTENSION

SEGMENT ONE - What Is Nature? (Credit: 4 sem. hrs.)

ENVS 395	Environmental Studies of the Natural World
HIST 395	Historical Perspectives on the Natural World
SOC 395	Social Thought on the Natural World

SEGMENT TWO - What Is Community? (Credit: 3 sem. hrs.)

ART 396	Topics in the Intersection of Society and the Arts
BIST 396	Selected Social Issues in Biblical Perspective
COMM 396	Topics in the Relationship of Society and Human Communications
EDU 396	Topics in Educational Theory and Practice
ENVS 396	Topics in the Relationship of Science and Society
HIST 396	Historical Perspectives on Social Thought
LIT 396	Literary Perspectives on Society
PHIL 396	Selected Social Issues in Philosophical Perspective
POL 396	Topics in the History of Political Thought
PSYCH 396	Selected Social Issues in Psychological Perspective
SOC 396	Topics in the Study of Society
REL 396	Topics in the Relationship of Religion and Society
INST 396	Directed Study

SEGMENT THREE - What Is a Sustainable World? (Credit: 3 sem. hrs.)

In this segment students choose one of four tracks that are all experience-based. Credit area is determined by the track they join. Track-determined course titles are:

BUAD 397	Sustainable Business
ENVS 397	Toolcraft for a Sustainable World
LIT 397	Nature Writing for a Sustainable World
BIO 397	Forest Management for a Sustainable World (Lab Science)

Students may petition OE professors to do a more traditional Research Project as an alternative to these four tracks. Research Project course titles are:

ART 397	Artistic Perspectives on Sustainability
BIST 397	Biblical Perspectives on Sustainability
HIST 397	Historical Perspectives on Sustainability
PHIL 397	Philosophical Perspectives on Sustainability
PSYC 397	Psychological Perspectives on Sustainability
SOC 397	Sociological Perspectives on Sustainability
REL 397	Religious Perspectives on Sustainability
INST 397	Directed Study

SEGMENT FOUR - What Does It Mean to Be Human? (Credit: 3 sem. hrs.)

ART 398	Artistic Perspectives on the Human Person
BIST 398	Biblical Perspectives on the Human Person
COMM 398	Critical Interpretations of the Human Person in the Media
ENVS 398	The Natural Sciences on the Human Person
HIST 398	Historical Perspectives on the Human Person
LIT 398	Literary Perspectives on the Human Person
PHIL 398	Philosophical Perspectives on the Human Person
PSYC 398	Psychological Perspectives on the Human Person
SOC 398	Sociological Perspectives on the Human Person
REL 398	Religious Perspectives on the Human Person
INST 398	Directed Study

ALL SEGMENTS (Credit: 4 sem. hrs.)

COMM 399	Composition and Rhetoric (3 credits)
PEG 395	Wilderness Recreation (1 credit)